

AT THE BROOKLYN THEATRES.

"Tangled Up" to Be Presented at the Park Next Week.

Harrigan at the Amphion - The Horses at the Grand.

Will S. Rising, one of the most popular and capable actor-singers on the American stage, who won his spurs in grand and comic opera on two continents and was last seen in this vicinity as Lotta's leading juvenile, will bring his comedy, "Tangled Up," to the Park Theatre, Harrisburg, next week. It is on the order of "Wilkinson's Widows," and Rising and his clever partner, Louis De Lunge, have introduced many excellent musical numbers. "Tangled Up" will probably be the last of several outside the city of New York before the close of the season.

Next season at the Amphion, and a popular company will hold the stage. Edward Harrigan and his talented associates will be seen in "Helly and the Go" and "The Mulligan Guard Ball." The former will be played the first half of the week, and the latter play, which was one of the most successful of the Mulligan Guard series, will be presented the second half of the week. The company will be the same as last season, and the engagement is for two weeks. Open at the Grand Opera House, Harrisburg, June 10, 1933. The show is certainly a remarkable exhibition of animal intelligence.

"Capt. Ella Weener, the male impersonator will be the feature of the Harrisburg at the Grand Opera House, Harrisburg, next week. Among others who will appear are Maud Stewart, Sven, Rette, Fremont, Adele Stuart and Minnie Schult, all vocalists.

STONED THE POLICEMAN.

Young Brown Thought He Was the Man Who Insulted His Wife.

Thomas Brown, twenty years old, who lives at Wallabout street and Marcy avenue, was accused of assaulting an officer in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, on Sunday. Brown was charged with striking the officer after a lecture. It seems that the young man has only been married five weeks, and has just recently started housekeeping. Mrs. Brown is a bright, pretty young woman, two years her husband's junior. This morning the wife, who had been out to market, returned to the house crying, and told her husband that a man had followed her home, insulted her, and even then refused to leave. The angry young husband did not wait for any more explanations, but ran out to the street, where he saw the man in citizen's clothes passing, and promptly threw a stone at him. It turned out to be the officer, who was on duty on the charge of assaulting an officer.

PASSED A COUNTERFEIT BILL.

Mrs. Mary Loftus Swindled by an Unknown Man.

Mrs. Mary Loftus, of 140 Smith street, Brooklyn, notified the police to-day that she had been swindled by a man who called at her store Thursday. The man, who she gave him $475 change. The certificate is on the order of the United States Bank, New York, and is numbered B 19,718,888. It is similar to those found near where two Italians were arrested yesterday morning, for passing counterfeit money.

A Quarrel and a Knockdown.

Thomas McCarthy, aged twenty-three, of 65 Prospect street, Brooklyn, was arrested this morning, charged with assault. He quarreled with Thomas Neary, of 187 High street, at the corner of Sands and Gold streets last night and knocked him down. Neary's head struck the sidewalk and he sustained a fracture of the skull. He was taken to the hospital, and is now recovering.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Sneak Thieves in Brooklyn.

Sneak thieves entered the apartments of Edward Stumbleton, 73 Starr street, and Peter Berger, 14 Noble street, during the night and stole $40 worth of clothing and jewelry from each place.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

Stole Incandescents Lamps.

Charles De Brinc, janitor of the rooms of the Art Association, 174 Montague street, Brooklyn, reported to-day that thieves had stolen ten incandescents lamps from the front entrance.

500 PRETTY SCHOOLMA'AMS.

They Are Taking Their Annual Excursion To-Day.

Brooklyn's Teachers Go to Luncheon Grove on Their Outing.

Five hundred pretty schoolma'ams left Brooklyn this morning on the annual excursion of the School Teachers' Association. The teachers, who were accompanied by their families, went to the Luncheon Grove on their outing. The teachers, who were accompanied by their families, went to the Luncheon Grove on their outing. The teachers, who were accompanied by their families, went to the Luncheon Grove on their outing.

When the schoolma'ams awoke this morning, and saw that Old Sol was hidden behind a bank of ominous clouds, they were certain it would rain, and each went forth with a mackintosh and umbrella. But before the boat left the dock the sun came out in all its glory and assured the teachers that a fine day was in store for them.

It was 9:30 before the decks of the steamer Ritus of the Iron Steamboat Company, cast off her lines. As the bow of the big steamer swung out into the stream, five teachers, who were late, came running down the pier.

The stern of the boat swung in to the dock and two big policemen boosted them over the rail.

A half-hour later the steamer stopped at the South Fifth street dock to take the Eastern District teachers on board. Health Commissioner Griffin, who was formerly member of the Board of Education, and Henry Brown, Secretary of the Board, chaperoned the teachers.

Schneider's string band furnished the music.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

The excursionists expected to arrive at the Luncheon Grove at 1:30. They arrived about noon, and returned about 9 o'clock to-night.

ROBERT HOERNER GOES FREE.

His Brother Edward Remanded Back to Jail.

Stranger Scene in the Brooklyn Court of Seasons To-Day.

There was a strange scene in the Court of Seasons, Brooklyn, this morning. Edward K. Hoerner, of Steelton, Pa., was indicted under the name of Joseph Hall for murder in the first degree for killing George Phillips. Judge Moore would have discharged Robert Hoerner from custody yesterday if he could identify him, but as there was no one to identify him, he was remanded to jail.

The specimen of the left is Joseph, said the veteran policeman, pointing to the smaller man of the two, "and this man here is Edward Hoerner, the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. The brothers glanced at each other and tears filled their eyes. Before they could be taken to the courtroom, the judge tapped Edward on the shoulder and pointed towards the pen.

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

Edward Hoerner, who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips, was taken to the pen. The judge then turned to the other man, who was identified as Joseph Hall, and said: "You are the brother of the man who was indicted for the murder of George Phillips. You are taken to the pen."

THREE RUNAWAY BROOKLYN BOYS.

Captured in Harlem.

Bound for the Catskills with Twenty Cents and an Air-Gun.

Three young would-be Summer tourists, George Evans, aged fourteen, of 371 Waverley avenue, Brooklyn, Wade and Robert Martin, brothers, twelve and ten years of age, appeared in the Harlem Police Court this morning. They were charged with the carrying of a gun, against the Company of the Terry Society, which will probably send them home.

Yesterday the trio determined that a visit to the country was necessary for their health. They fixed upon the Catskill Mountains as the proper place to go to, and though their combined capital was only twenty cents in pennies, that did not deter them from making a start. Besides, young Evans was the fortunate owner of an air gun, and he assured his companions that he would kill enough game on the way to start a list on.

Leaving notes for their parents announcing their departure, and that they would not be back until the end of the summer, they left Brooklyn in the morning. They took the elevated train to the Harlem River, reaching there with only five cents in cash.

There was some discussion as to who would control the shooting of the five pennies, and the youngest, Robert, was chosen. He was given the air gun, and the three boys set out on their journey.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game. They were soon out of the city, and were looking for game.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN OFFICERS MAKE DENIALS ON THE WITNESS STAND.

Claim They Did Not Say Staggering Passengers Were Not on Board.

Claim They Did Not Say Staggering Passengers Were Not on Board.

Capt. Henry Vogelsang and Dr. Hermann Guendler, of the Hamburg-American Packet Company's steamer Columbia, were examined this morning as witnesses for the defense by Lawyer Goldkin, attorney for the Company, in the court against the Company of Bridgeport, Conn., against the Company to recover $10,000 for damages arising out of the cholera troubles on board the Company's steamer Normanna last year.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender.

Capt. Vogelsang testified that he was on the tender which carried the cabin passengers from Southampton to the Normanna. He was asked by the lawyer if he saw any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the tender. He said he did not see any passengers on the